Grantcutters from the plant of the Harrison Granite Co. spent a busy day yesterday aboard a flat car on the Barre & Chelsea railroad siding south of Prospect street. The reason why a corporal's guard of cutters under the supervision of George Davis assembled on the car was evident after their work was done when trainmen put the measure to a roof stone aboard the car and found it was in the "clear." The big stone aboard the car came down from Millstone hill Thursday and until it reached the upper end of the yards, it was thought that it was clear any obstructions along the track. It developed, however, that at least two buildings might be sidetracked if the stone was permitted to go the length of the yard and so the Harrison company detailed a number of men to whittle away the sharp corners on the granite.

When a touring party carrying a local orchestra grazed into a Ford runabout operated by Charles Lascor, known as "the Stag man" through his connection with a well known tobacco concern, on the road to Woodbury pond last night, the smaller car was ditched. The accident occurred just a few miles west of Woodbury and Lascor's auto was one of the fourteen machines that carried passengers to the dance in the lake pavilion. Lascor and his passenger, Miss Cecil Place of Burlington, were thrown from the car, but escaped injuries. The runabout flipped over on its side after settling into the ditch and the best the driver could do, with the assistance of garage men, was to get the little car into condition in time to join the dancers homeward bound at midnight.

Don't Let Us Hurry You

We have been in New York this week, watching the Dry Goods market. Just take this whisper from us: If you are to buy Cotton for fall and winter, don't let September 1 pass without making your purchases. You will see, following September 1, for six weeks the fastest price advances for years.

Wool Dress Goods that we paid 47½¢ for two years ago, to-day cost 82½¢, with but a very few colors for sale. If you buy of us before we have to pay these prices, it means a large saving to you. This applies to our whole stock.

Now you have the whole story as to present and future prices. Do as you like.
